— Managing Partner —

Raymond Walker is a founding partner of Walker Eisenbraun and currently serves as its managing partner. With over two decades of legal and business experience, he advises companies and private equity firms on all aspects of their corporate, securities and transactional matters, with an emphasis on middle market transactions. Raymond's long-time clients, ranging from Fortune 100 companies, middle market operating companies, and private equity funds and portfolio companies, trust Raymond to handle a broad range of corporate and transactional matters, such as mergers, acquisitions and divestitures, placements of debt and equity, formation and structuring of entities, corporate governance, joint ventures, and other complex transactions. Raymond's middle market focus was honed as a capital markets attorney with national law firms, as general counsel and senior vice president of a private equity fund, and as a board member and advisor for several energy portfolio companies. Raymond has been recognized for his excellence in law, having been named a Super Lawyer for mergers and acquisitions and as a Rising Star by Texas Super Lawyers®, a Thomson Reuters business.

Raymond approaches transactions – and life – with a reasoned and deliberate intensity that manifests in his work ethic and service to clients and the community. He graduated cum laude from Southern Methodist University's Dedman School of Law, where he served as Editor-in-Chief of the ABA Journal, The International Lawyer. Raymond earned his undergraduate degree in Biomedical Science from Texas A&M University. He currently serves on the Board of Directors of Santo Clinic, which provides medical services in Haiti, and on the Development Council of The Arms of Hope, which houses, educates and assists disadvantaged children and single mothers. Raymond considers his family his greatest accomplishment, including his wife and two children, with whom he enjoys hunting, playing tennis, and attending Texas A&M football games whenever possible.
